SPECIAL SESSION.

Saturday Afternoon's Meeting of the City Council.

CITY COUNCIL ROOM, ROCK ISLAND, July 22, 1893.—The city council met in special session at 2 p. m., Mayor Medill presiding, and all the aldermen present, except Dauber, Foss and Kuschmann. The clerk read the call, which was as follows:

To A. D. Huesing, City Clerk: You will please call a special meeting of the city council to be held Saturday, July 22, 1893, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of investigating grades and such other business as might come before the city council. By order of T. J. Medill, Jr., Mayor.

Ald. Corken moved that the council take a recess for the purpose of examining grades. Carried.

Upon reassembling Ald. Kennedy moved that the grades heretofore established be maintained.

Ald. Corken offered an amendment that the grades as recommended by Civil Engineer W. A. Darling be adopted. Carried 8 to 3—Cramer, Kennedy, Nelson.

The motion as amended was then adopted, 9 to 2—Kennedy, Nelson.

Ald. Kennedy offered an ordinance establishing grades on Sixteenth street and Fifth avenue extending west on Fifth, Fifth-and-a-half and Sixth avenues to Twelfth street and moved its adoption. Lost, 7 to 4—Bladel, Kramer, Kennedy, Nelson.

Ald. Schroeder, from the bridge committee, moved that the mayor instruct the superintendent of streets to repair a certain bridge on Forty-second street between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues. Carried.

Adjourned.

A. D. HUESING, City Clerk.

GREAT COMPREHENSIVENESS.

Almost Everything Included in the 4-Paw Exhibition.

What a tremendous list of attractions is offered by the Adam Forepaugh shows, to be sure! It includes a circus, a menagerie, a museum, an aviary, a hippodrome and the splendid glories of the sublime, historical representation of the scenes and battles of 1776—the American revolution. Such a list is almost staggering to ordinary comprehension. Certainly nothing approaching it in magnificence and grandeur has ever before been seen in either America or Europe. Over 200 of the highest skilled, best trained and most daring of all performers in a circus, including the wild warrior Cossacks of the czar, the first of their race to be seen in America; over 200 rare wild beasts constituting a veritable compendium of natural history; dozens of the rarest of nature's marvels and wildest fancies in animal existence in the museum; a college of ornithological wonders in the aviary; more than a score of daring, thrilling, comical and novel races in the hippodrome, and the entire strength of the shows—1,000 people—in the representation of the revolutionary war; all forming a monstrous aggregation the like of which has never before been seen, and all is placed within easy reach of the masses at a trifling cost of only 50 cents. Truly this is an age of marvels, and one wonders how much larger circus shows can be made. It was generally supposed that the limit of immensity had been reached when the great shows were here last, but in view of their grandeur this year there seems to be no limit to the expansive magnificence of the Adam Forepaugh shows. They will exhibit here on Saturday, Aug. 5.

A Long Way Off.
—W. A. J.—in the Moline Republican-Journal, is guilty of the following parody, which he writes under the caption of "After:"

After the summer is over,
After the fall has come,
After the going school-girl
Has cast away her gum,
After the gray-headed shuttle
Has left their mortal coil,
And the kids have grown bald-headed
From bearing life's heavy toll;
After the music has
Has dwindled to a creek,
And the East Moline brick makers
Have produced those paving bricks;
After the railway is created,
Have gone to meet their "part,"
And got use to the smell of brimstone,
Which is part of their sure reward;
After the high school's building
(Of the city's pride the mark);
After the city fathers
Have decided to buy a park;
After we've taken Rock Island
Beneath our protecting wing;
After every church choir member
Has really learned to sing;
After the wise attorneys
Have learned to make no mistakes;
After Niagara's chasm
Has drained the fountains below;
After the last state "chestnut"
For the last time has been told;
After the "daddy dollar"
Is worth a dollar in gold;
After the People's party
This who's broad land has saved—
Ah, then—don't faint, sweet reader—
Moline's streets will be paved!

Woma co in Na-sell
She went to a ball; was too thin; clothing caught cold; was very ill for many days; a devoted admirer brought a remedy, when her life seemed to hang by a thread; she took it; recovered; and finally married the man who had saved her life. And the remedy he brought her was Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is a certain cure for all throat and lung diseases and scrofulous complaints, of which consumption is one.
